The Neighborhood, An Online Longitudinal Nursing Case Study

Jean Giddens

The Neighborhood is highly interactive and contains video, text, photos, sample medical records, and community data as well as gradable assignments, activities, and NCLEX-type quiz questions. It can be used as a course-specific supplement with any Pearson nursing textbook or it can be used across the entire department for deeper cross-curricular integration.

- MyNursingLab is an effective study tool for students. It provides them with a guided path where they can synthesize vast amounts of information through personalized study plans.
- MyNursingLab's pre-test questions let students test themselves on their understanding of key concepts and skills. Based on a student's results on the pre-test, MyNursingLab creates a personalized and guided learning path that helps the student move beyond recall to actual application.
- MyNursingLab's guided learning path provides students with eText pages, lecture PowerPoint slides that summarize key concepts. Each chapter includes a plethora of practice quizzes that quickly lets students assess their knowledge of vocabulary and concepts.
- The personalized study plan provides animations, videos, and activities that help students put content into context in order to help students work through key concepts with which they may have struggled with during the pre-test.
- The personalized study plan also includes application activities like client-care scenarios that improve students' clinical competency. This feature provides students with a clinical scenario so that students can apply what they learned.
- Each MyNursingLab includes an interactive eText which allows highlighting, searching, and note taking. Access to MyNursingLab with Pearson eText automatically allows access to both the online eText as well as the eText on the iPad and/or the iPhone via the Pearson eText app.
